

Lawyer lectures for seniors

One of the activities planned in the Project with the elderly in mind were lectures to increase knowledge of their rights in connection with the threat or experience of domestic violence. They were attended by seniors from the Day Care Center for the Elderly, the Senior Citizens Club and the Pulawsk University of the Third Age.

The lecturer - Ms. Marta Gryciuk, a legal counselor - presented in a vivid and accessible manner the basic information concerning, among other things, responsibility for the crime of Article 207 CC. Participants learned how the criminal process looks like, what rights a person experiencing violence has in it as a party to the proceedings, what decisions against the perpetrator of violence can be requested in criminal cases.

They were also presented issues concerning the rights of people experiencing violence to stabilize their living and family situation, maintenance obligations incumbent on obligated persons and how to pursue maintenance claims to eliminate the effects of economic violence.

Seniors listened to the lectures with interest. There were questions, comments and discussion. We thank Ms. Marta Gryciuk for working together to increase the awareness and knowledge of the residents of our city, to whom the lectures were dedicated 😊.
